

We are looking for sharp writers to join the CPHmade blog-team.

The online platform of CPHmade is undergoing a positive development on both traffic and interest.

The CPHmade blog and its posts are a very important asset to the CPHmade project, and as we are constantly expanding the CPHmade-network, we are now looking for writers who want to contribute to the CPHmade blog with interesting point of views.

We expect that you have a relation to Copenhagen, but you don't necessarily need to be living in Copenhagen.

We imagine that you could come across subjects like:

Design
Fashion
Food Politics
Copenhagen

If you find this interesting, don't hesitate to drop us a line or two about yourself, and attach examples of blog posts/articles you've made.

Send us your examples to ak@cphmade.org, and we'll get back to you as soon as possible.

We're looking forward to hearing from you!
